

GREEK KING ABDICATES ON ENTENTE'S DEMAND

AFFORDS SECURITY FOR ALLIES

Constantine and Crown Prince George to Leave Country
Immediately and Go to Switzerland—Allies Deemed It Necessary to Take Action to Advance Success of War
—Step Meets With Approval of Most Greeks.

Athens, Greece, June 12, via Paris, France. — The fall of Constantine I. king of the Hellenes, has come. In response to the demand of the protesting powers, France, Great Britain and Russia, he abdicated today in favor of his second son, Prince Alexander.

This climax in the affairs of Greece was brought about through the agency of the French senator, M. Jonnart, who has held posts in several French cabinets and who arrived at Athens only a day or two ago on a special mission as the representative of France, Great Britain and Russia. M. Jonnart had previously visited Saloniki and other points and he lost no time in getting into conference with the Greek premier, Alexander Zaimis. The demands of the powers respecting the abdication of King Constantine also specifically eliminated Crown Prince George as his successor, the Crown Prince being included among those Greeks in official life who were considered strongly pro German.

Will Leave Country.

Both the former king and Prince George it was announced today by Premier Zaimis intend to leave the country immediately. It is reported that they will embark on a British warship and proceed to Switzerland by way of Italy. It is expected that Prince Alexander will take up his kingly duties with full acceptance of the ideas that the protesting powers desire to be put into effect. He is 24 years of age and has been free from and entente proclivities.

Affairs in Greece, which several times since the outbreak of the war had seemed on the verge of a settlement, recently have taken on such an aspect of uncertainty that it became necessary for the powers to act with decision. M. Jonnart was selected to proceed to Athens for the purpose of laying before the premier the aims which France, Great Britain and Russia had with respect to establishing unity of feeling among the Greeks and greater security for the entente forces engaged in operations in the east. While he informed the premier that troops had been placed at his disposal, he appealed that a peaceful settlement be made. The troops were not to land until the king had given his answer.

Demands Made.

M. Jonnart called upon Premier Zaimis on Monday morning and demanded in the name of the protesting powers the abdication of King Constantine and the nomination of his successor to the seclusion of the Dardanelles (Crown Prince).

M. Zaimis recognized the distinctness of the powers, whose sole object was to reconstitute the unity of Greece under this constitution, but he pointed out that a decision would only be taken by the king after a meeting of the Crown council. It was not until 9:30 o'clock this morning that the Premier communicated to the commissioner of the allied powers the king's answer in the following letter to M. Jonnart.

"Having demanded by your note yesterday, the abdication of his majesty King Constantine, and the nomination of his successor, the undersigned premier and foreign minister has the honor to inform your excellency that his majesty, the king, ever zealous for the interests of Greece, has decided to leave the country with the Crown Prince and nominates as his successor Prince Alexander."

Prior to the letter, many Greeks loyal to the crown, gathered to protect the sovereign. The king's only wish was an appeal that they should remain calm. All efforts or agitators to start a manifestation failed and the army officers announced their intention to obey the command of the government to take no part in the demonstration.

Retained Four Years.

The reign of Constantine I as king of the Hellenes was brief, dating only from March 15, 1913; when his father, George I, was assassinated in Saloniki.

Just as the reign was Constantine had enjoyed prior to the beginning of the great war in 1914, a period of remarkable popularity and had increased the territory of the Greek monarchy over 50 per cent. His attitude of opposition toward the entente powers when their troops occupied part of Greek territory in the Macedonian campaign against the Teutonic allies, however, brought him into conflict with the statesmen of Greece and resulted in the establishment of a provisional government headed by Eleftherios Venizelos, whom the king had driven from the post of premier.

Throughout a long series of negotiations and conflict with the entente commanders Constantine was often accused of being pro-German in sympathies, largely, it was charged, as a result of the influence of Queen Sophia, sister of the German emperor, whom he married in 1893. Constantine declared throughout that he desired only to maintain neutrality and their base involved King Constantine in a long series of clashes with the entente commanders, during which he was accused of evasion and attempting to gain time in the hope that Germany would assemble on the Macedonian front sufficient troops to overwhelm the entente forces. It was charged that the king and his government laid a trap for the entente troops which occupied a part of Athens, to enforce a demand for a surrender of ten batteries of Greek artillery, to compensate for the surrender of Greek guns to the Teutonic allies. Greek reservists fired upon the French and British forces, but the king was reported to have ordered the firing stopped after about 200 casualties. Six batteries of mountain guns were given up to the allies and the king reached a temporary understanding with the entente commanders.

Recognize Provisionals.

Meantime, the provisional government, headed by Venizelos, had obtained the recognition of the entente powers. The provisional army occupied Katerina near Saloniki and Venizelos continued his agitation against Constantine, declaring the king was a victim of bad counsel, had led the Greek people to the brink of a precipice by an alliance with their hereditary enemies and by violation of the constitution in dissolving the Greek parliament, and brought the contempt of the world upon Greece.

In order to enforce their demands, the entente powers laid an embargo upon the supplies for Greece, which fanned the flame of discontent. Constantine was denounced by the people of Crete and Lemnos, who accused him of treachery, and demanded his dethronement.

Constantine, however, asserted that England and France had roused the resentment of the Greeks and alienated their sympathy by interfering in Greek politics. He protested against the entente occupation of Greek territory, asserted that his endeavors were to maintain Greek neutrality and predicted that, if the country went to war against Germany, it would share the fate of Rumania.

A crisis in Constantine's fate arose in the latter part of April, 1917, when it was announced that he had served an ultimatum on the entente powers, demanding a guarantee against French invasion and that he be permitted to retain his throne. He offered, if this was done, to form a cabinet agreeable to the entente. His attitude was regarded as threatening war upon the entente forces, unless his demands were granted.

Feeling Against King.

Since April there have been recurrent rumors that Constantine either would be dethroned by the entente powers or that he would abdicate in favor of the Crown Prince. The feeling against the king had been aroused to such extent that a great demonstration was held in Saloniki May 8, at which the crowd cheered the speakers with shouts of "Long Live Venizelos!" "Long live the national government!" and "Down with the King!" The mayor of Saloniki presided and proposed a resolution proclaiming the deposition of Constantine, but the crowd insisted the entire dynasty should be removed.

In the latter part of April the Greek charge d'affaires at Washington issued a long statement which contained a message from King Constantine categorically denying published reports tending to show that Constantine had been hostile to the allies or had expressed the hope of the success of the aims of "one of the belligerents, or to have expressed himself in hostile fashion toward one of the belligerents or had spoken in any way whatsoever in the sense of said opinion attributed to him."

The king also denied that he or his government ever harbored hostile intention of any kind toward the entente.

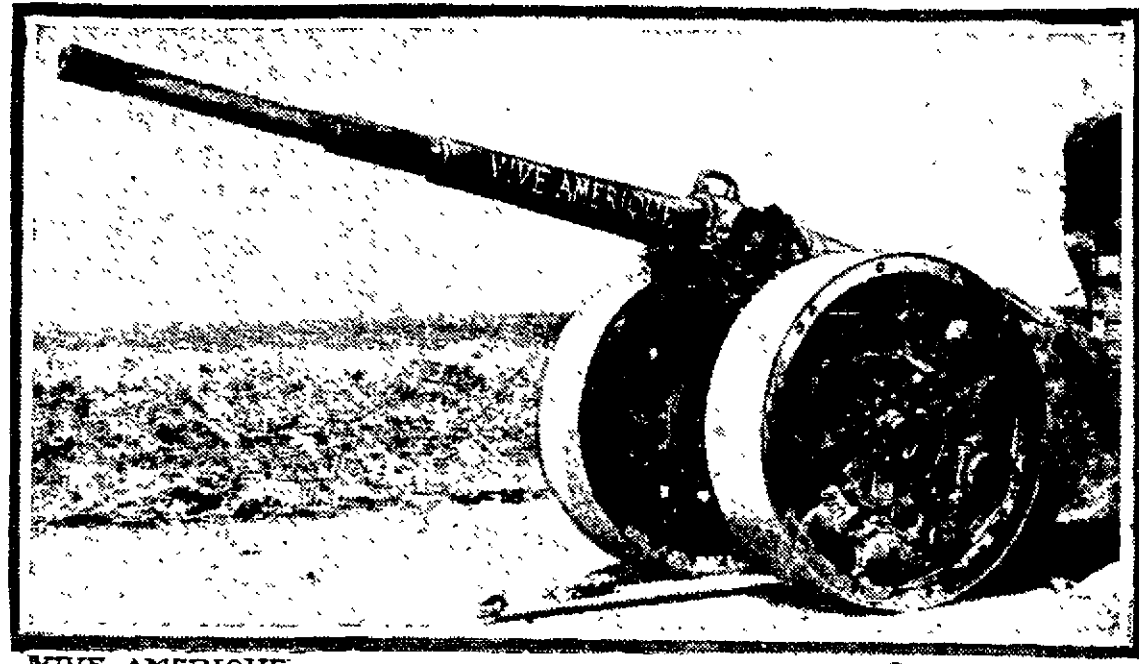

Climax Expected.

The approaching climax to the situation which has long prevailed in Greece was outlined succinctly in a dispatch to a London newspaper from Athens May 2. The dispatch said:

"The king is steadily losing followers. Fifty-seven officers recently left in one day for Saloniki and the stream is continuing. Since the provisional government declared that the population of any territory seceding hereafter to the national government will not be mobilized the last plank was knocked from under the king's feet and it is at least most doubtful if any of the rank and file will be found to stand between him and his fate."

There is no doubt that Prince George, the crown prince, was supplanted by his young brother, Prince Alexander, owing to his well-known pro-German sentiments. Although he has taken little part so far as is known, in the turmoil prevailing in Greece various reports have indicated that he was opposed to his former friend, Eleftherios Venizelos, and all others who sided with the entente. This feeling was probably engendered by his German mother, Queen Sophia. Last year it was said Prince George had gone to Berlin and Vienna on important missions to German and Austrian emperors. The crown prince is 27 years old.

How French Artillery Hailed America's Entry Into War

When word of America's declaration of war against Germany was received at the fighting front in France the French and English troops celebrated in various ways. This picture shows how some French artillerymen hailed the new ally.

ENGLISH TROOPS TAKE TWO MILES

Still Smashing Into German Front
Around Messines

FRENCH MAKE RAIDS

Do Great Damage to Teutons and Capture Prisoners; Quiet
Reigns in Trentino District

In the fighting zone the situation is comparatively calm except on the British front in France along the line held by the French troops against the Germans in the region running eastward from Soissons into Champagne and on several sectors of the Austro-Italian theatre.

Sir Douglas Haig's troops have again smashed into the German front east and northeast of Messines and largely extended the gains previously made in this region. Nearly two miles of trenches were stormed and occupied by the Britishers and in addition the small village of Gaspard, directly east of Messines, was captured. Berlin reports activity by the British cavalry east of Messines during Monday afternoon but says the attack by the mounted men was repulsed and only remnants of them were able to return to their positions. The German artillery in the neighborhood of Lens and Ypres is bombarding the British line.

The artillery of the French and Germans is still active along the Chemin des Dames and in Champagne. During Tuesday the French made raids on German trenches near the Butte de Messnil and in the region of Haute Chevauchée, doing considerable damage to the position and capturing prisoners.

Bad weather for the moment has caused somewhat of a cessation in the activity in the Trentino district of the Austro-Italian theatre, although artillery duels of considerable proportions continue. There has been no return in the infantry attacks on the Julian front to the east, although the Austrians have been particularly active with their big guns against the Italians on the Vodic and the heights north-east of Gorizia.

In Macedonia the Teutonic allies have met with repulse in several surprise attacks made against the French troops. The artillery duels continue in the Cerna bend.

TO DECIDE WHEN WAR ENDS

Judge Refuses to Parole German Agent Serving Term.

New York, June 12. — Counsel for Count Max Lynar Loudon, alleged German agent, appeared before Judge Rosalsky and asked for his parole from the Blackwell Island penitentiary, where he is serving a term for bigamy. The court's answer to the plea was:

"I shall reserve decision until after the war is over."

The district attorney's office in opposing Loudon's move, said he would if released "be a constant menace" to the government because "he was one of the kind of men skilled mentally and physically whom the foreign governments use in their intrigues against one another."

The count was convicted of bigamy about a year ago, while government agents were investigating suspected German activities.

ROOSEVELT WANTS PROTECTION

Oyster Bay, June 12.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt applied to the town board today for a protection from a curious public. He asked that two constables be given to guard his estate, especially on Saturday and Sunday. The colonel complained that parties of autoists picnic on the grounds at Sagamore hill and wander about the grounds and peer into his windows and pick flowers.

FLAG DAY PROGRAM

FORMATION OF PARADE ANNOUNCED WITH COMPANIES AND ORGANIZATIONS.

Exercises at Wilber Park Attendant Upon Military Flag Raising Will Be Very Interesting — Dr. Russell To Speak Briefly.

With the promise of good weather there seems to be no doubt now of a rousing demonstration tomorrow at the Flag day demonstration. From all parts of the county comes word that the citizens are planning to pay deference to Old Glory at this time.

The big flag pole donated by Mr. Fluhrer and his associates will be erected on Wilber park today. The pole is a very attractive one and is close to 75 feet high and one of the best of this affords.

The flag to be unfurled to the breeze amid military exercises at Wilber park was donated to the city by Judge A. L. Kellogg. Company G, under command of Captain George C. Keepers, will have charge of the military service. Much interest has been manifested in this proposed part of the program and in view of the important part the flag occupies in the public eye everybody will want to witness the flag raising.

In addition to the flag raising several patriotic songs will be sung. J. J. Gessner has consented to lead the singing and there ought to be no hesitation on the part of the audience in taking part in this demonstration. Printed song sheets will be distributed among the crowd by members of the Boy's Scouts.

Other Exercises at Park.

The exercises at the park will consist largely of flag drills and tableaux by the pupils of the High school. Much time has been spent in developing the scholars in this work. The Normal students will repeat some of the dances given last Friday night. It is understood several other numbers will be added. These dances will be rendered in costume and will interpret interesting subjects. No one should miss these artistic exercises, which show splendid drilling in connection with our school systems.

There will be no speeches at the park, except a brief announcement of the importance of subscribing to the Liberty Loan fund. This will be made by Dr. J. C. Russell. The program complete will be published in The Star tomorrow.

BANKS DO NOT REPORT ON LOAN

Their Negligence Hinders Estimate of Progress Made

SMALL MAN AWAKENS

Need Great Volume of "Baby" Subscriptions; Historic Liberty Bell Will Toll on Thursday

Washington, D. C., June 12. — Treasury officials declared tonight that because of the failure of many banks to report they had been unable even to estimate the progress of the Liberty loan since last Friday night, when only $1,300,000,000 of the $2,000,000,000 apparently had been taken.

Another urgent call went out from the treasury tonight asking banks to report subscriptions so officials may no longer be kept in the dark. The call was disseminated to the 12 Federal Reserve banks.

Reports by telegraph and telephone today from many cities told of gratifying progress, but in many cases contained no figures. The small subscriber, on the face of today's general report, has awakened to the fact that the country needs his money and officials expect the final count to show many subscriptions of $50 to $100. There will have to be a tremendous number of such subscriptions if the loan is to show the needed $2,000,000,000 a day. One official predicted tonight that the total number of subscribers would approximate 2,000,000.

As the situation stands tonight, officials frankly do not know whether the $100,000,000 a day has been obtained. Thousands of banks have failed to notify the Reserve banks of progress made and the tabulation showing only $1,300,000,000 stands as the latest official figures. Another tabulation may be made tomorrow.

To insure success the closing days of the campaign will be devoted to redoubled efforts to bring out the dollars of the small investor. As a part of this campaign the old Liberty bell at Philadelphia, which proclaimed to the world 141 years ago the birth of the American republic, will ring once more in the cause of liberty. Next Thursday at noon, beginning the last 24 hours of the subscription period, the clapper of the bell will be set resounding against its cracked side. Mayor Smith of Philadelphia will be the bell ringer.

At the same hour in every city, town, village and hamlet throughout the country the bells of churches, schools, court houses and town halls will take up the call. Factory whistles will follow a chorus.

To the workers of the country Secretary Wilson addressed a personal appeal urging them to rally their savings for the loan.

DRAFT REGISTRATION INDICATIONS BETTER

NOW BELIEVE TOTAL WILL COME

Washington, D. C., June 12.—War registration returns in tonight from 27 states indicated that when all states have reported the total enrolled will exceed census estimates of eligibles deducting the 600,000 men now in military and naval service not required to register. The provost marshal general's office estimated tonight that total registration would be nearly 9,500,000, slightly more than 90 per cent of the census estimates of 10,298,000 eligibles between the ages of 21 and 30 inclusive. Deductions indicated by the war department, however, would reduce this census estimate about 12 per cent or to a little more than 9,000,000. With 11 more states to report war department records show tonight that 7,129,503 have registered as compared with census estimates of 7,773,467 for the states reported. Of those registered 5,468,073 were white, 847,852 were colored, 807,855 were aliens and 34,311 were alien enemies.

Some of the states not yet reported will show excesses over their census estimates, according to incomplete tabulation. Michigan today jumped into first place among the states in proportion of estimates eligibles with 113.6 per cent.

HAPPINESS THROUGH SERVICE

New Brunswick, N. J., June 12.—"By and through service comes greater happiness," was the message of Major General George W. Goethals to the students and graduates of Rutgers college, at the annual alumni luncheon this afternoon. General Goethals declared that service to his government had been his one aim and desire since he was graduated from West Point 37 years ago today.

LIBERTY BONDS COMPARED WITH INSURANCE POLICY

In One Case the Purchaser Pays the Premium, in the Other the Government.

By CHARLES BUXTON GOING of the Vigilantes.

A liberty bond is actually an insurance policy, issued by the United States, which guarantees return of the full face value. But instead of asking you to pay any premium the United States pays premiums to you.

What does your bond insure? Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Is anything more vitally important? What protection would you find in a key on your house, your goods, your health, your old age, if our country should suffer the fate of Belgium, of Serbia, of Poland, of Roumania, of northern France? What would the underwriters have left with which to repay your individual loss, or what would be left of you to profit by the payment?

Make no mistake. The peril is real, vivid—swift to leap upon us unless our defense is ready. True, we have power in abundance—men, talents, resources. But they cannot be mobilized for our protection until we have first mobilized our money. That is what the liberty bonds will do.

One of the world's greatest statesmen when he was asked to name the first requisite for successful war replied with emphasis, "Money!" "And the second requisite?" "Money!" "And the third?" "Money!"

Every one of us can prove himself a statesman in decision and action by lending to our country some portion of this paramount requisite. If we have not the ready cash on hand we can save the contribution week by week and do our bit just as effectively. Any bank will gladly explain how and handle all the business details without charge.

And finally the promise held out by these liberty bonds is far happier than that of any insurance policy, which merely undertakes to reimburse you if you lose. The liberty bonds are a guarantee that we shall not lose. You win with your country and collect your policy too.

Insure the United States and the United States will insure you. Buy a liberty bond!

WHY IS INDUSTRY LIKE A THREE LEGGED STOOL?

For a Solution of the Conundrum Read the Following Three Interviews.

Andrew Carnegie, who since his retirement from active life has devoted himself to the study of human relations, was recently asked which he considered the most important factor in industry—labor, capital or brains? The canny Scot replied, with a merry twinkle in his eye:

"Which is the most important leg of a three legged stool?" For all the factors in industry there is a tabloid sermon in the steel man's terse reply, a sermon which brings home more effectively than any lengthy discussion could possibly do, the interdependence of employers and employees and the necessity for their working together with the public to protect the prosperity of industry.

But Mr. Carnegie is only one of the many authorities who have laid stress upon this theme. Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation and president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, recently expressed the same idea from another viewpoint—namely, the value of loyalty in employees and the necessity for cultivating this loyalty.

"It is well," said Judge Gary, "for the large number of employers to bear in mind that they cannot successfully carry on their affairs without having the labor and loyalty of their employees. The work of multitudes will always be needed for the successful operation of business, but it is clear that the skilled laborer or the highly educated or experienced employee would not without abundant capital accomplish pronounced success."—Industrial Conservation, New York.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York Markets.

New York, June 12.—Financial trading proceeded with greater caution in the stock market today, a logical result of latest factors in the general financial situation. Prices were uncertain at the outset, but became firmer almost immediately only to fall back.

Trans-continentals, grangers, coalers and minor western and southwestern issues figured among the active rails at extreme gains of 1 to 2½ points. Pacific Mail featured the steamship shares at a further advance of two points. Best quotations were made in the final hour, but the movement was again subject to profit taking at that stage. U. S. Steel, which fell to 129½ on the liberal offerings of the forenoon, rallied to 131½ and closed at 130½, a net gain of ½ of a point. Bethlehem Steel made extreme gains of 1½ to 2 points and Savage Arms, one of the inactive munitions, made a net gain of 8 points at 88.

Industrial Alcohol and United Cigar Stores were among the strongest issues at the finish. Motors, oils and sugars were backward. Total sales amounted to 775,000 shares.

U. S. bonds were unchanged on call, but the coupon 3's fell ½ per cent on a single sale.

That Camel blend turns the trick!

Get the flavor and satisfaction the blending of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos provides in Camel Cigarettes. You'll prefer that blend to either kind smoked straight! Prove this to yourself by comparing Camels with any cigarette at any price!

Smoke Camels to your heart's content, they are pure and wholesome and are free from any unpleasant cigarette after-taste. Quality is so apparent in each puff, smokers do not look for or expect premiums or coupons.

That mellow-mildness, that "body," puts an entirely new idea of cigarette satisfaction into your mind!

Camel
CIGARETTES

The stamp placed over and seals the package, which keeps out air, thereby preserving the quality of the blend of tobaccos. By inserting the fingers as illustrated, the stamp easily breaks without tearing the tin foil, which folds back into its place.

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages, 20 for 10c, or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton for $1.00. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

WORCESTER MUSICAL TREAT.

Concert Next Week Tuesday Under Auspices of American Red Cross.

Worcester, June 12.—An event that is expected to give great pleasure to Worcester people, and that will create interest in this section, is the appearance of the Cobleskill Choral club of about 70 voices, at the Wisting Opera house, Tuesday evening, June 19, when the oratorio, "The Holy City," will be given by the club and assisting soloists, and preceded by a short miscellaneous program. The club appears under the direction of Ben Franklin, the well known Albany tenor soloist and concert director, and recently gave a most successful concert at Cobleskill, critics claiming that it was the finest musical treat ever given in that place. Mr. Franklin was in our village on Tuesday last and had a conference with several members of the Executive committee of the American Red Cross, in regard to the local presentation, and it was then agreed that the event should be given under the auspices of and for the benefit of the local Red Cross. The importance of the event and the cause for which it is given should mean a very large attendance, and this is hoped for by the committee. The following well-known young ladies of our village will sell tickets and we bespeak for them a Mock Suns of the Arctic.

The mock suns of the arctic region are somewhat similar to the mirages of the desert. As the long winter night of the polar region wanes once every twenty-four hours a slight glow is seen at some point on the horizon. Often accompanying this glow is seen the phenomenon of the mock suns. Several degrees up in the heavens as many as five of these spectral orbs have been seen at one time. Invariably they are all connected in a geometric figure, the suns seemingly bound together with circles and arms of light. The explanation of the phenomenon is given by physicists as refraction and reflection of light from the real sun below the horizon on the mists in the upper atmosphere.

THE WOMEN'S CENSUS

By AMELIA JOSEPHINE BURN
Of the Vigilantes.

UNCLE SAM can't do without us, and he wants to know about us. And we only wish our answers had a richer tale to tell. But this he may be sure of, that he never needs to doubt us. We will do what we are able, and we'll surely do it well. We'll take our part. We put ourselves on record for the job that we can do. So that when the need is ready he can know we're ready too. Now the God of faithful workers keep the whole great army true, Head, hand and heart!

IT'S been the woman's part in war to stand behind the man. Sometimes to be protected and sometimes to give a shove. But the world today is running on a very different plan. And the women go on duty by the side of those they love. Your boy and mine. The brother and the husband and the comrade and the son. We fall right into step with them to do what must be done. And, though we wear no uniform, we're soldiers, every one. Come into line!

The Steeplechase.

The first steeplechases were literally "chases to a steeple." The earliest we can discover was a match in 1752 between Edmund Blake and Mr. O'Callaghan over four and a half miles of stiff country between the church of Buttevant and St. Leger church spire.—London Tatler.

A Telescope His Tomb.

After Keeler had become head of the Lick observatory and died there and his ashes were brought back to Allegheny for burial it was his friend Brashear who sealed them up in their last resting place, a hollow in the supporting pillar of the thirty inch reflector, which is Keeler's memorial.

Thursday is Flag day, and throughout the country will generally be observed. Why not make a subscription to the Liberty loan one of the features of the day for you? Sign now and help keep our country free.

The arrest of slackers in the conscription registration began in New Jersey Monday. Several who were arrested were allowed to enroll and given their cards. There is no disposition on the part of the government to deal harshly save in cases of wilful refusal.

"Do your bit" is the slogan every where among the English-speaking allies. "Raise your bit" is the modification of it which has been adopted for use in appeals to farmers and gardeners and to householders generally. It is a good admonition, and it carries with it the knowledge that no matter how much one raises this year, it cannot be more than there will be demand for.

As a matter of economy in materials and incidentally in dyes, the British government has endorsed the new fashion which is old—of wearing the Scotch kilts instead of trousers. Besides the reasons above given it is that they are more healthful and also more beautiful than the cylindrical bags which hide our legs nowadays. "Whoever," says the Liverpool Post, "ever saw a statue that looks dignified in trousers?"

To every changed condition there is need of new service, and apparently the Chautauqua institution in Western New York, not the Rildpath Chautauqua which does such excellent summer work in Oneonta, discerns at this time the necessity for a larger supply of patriotic spellbinders. At any rate it announces a school for that sort of orators to be held in July and which it advertises as a "Speakers' Training Camp for Education in Patriotic Service." If there are among our readers those who feel the necessity for a better grade of elocutionary patriotism, the Chautauqua at Chautauqua is ready to supply the demand.

General Jan Christian Smuts, gallant Boer soldier, and later the man who conquered German East Africa for the British in this war, said at a dinner in London that he did not believe in a republic run by a president for the British empire. The reason given is that the country is so large that an elected president could not be representative. But this is just as true of a king, as perhaps General Smuts will discover on reflection. However, the peril of all loosely held and widely separated territories under a single government is just what the Boer general suggests. The nations finally disintegrate because there is no community of interest to keep them together.

In the state of Washington it was the government estimate that there were 212,000 men subject to enrollment for conscription. The enrollment itself showed only 105,000. In the face of a result so preposterously out of proportion, the military authorities at Washington have notified the state officials that the draft in Washington would be based on the estimates. As things now stand, the draft would bear hard on those who honestly came forward and enrolled. But if as a result of the notice the state beats itself and gets busy with supplemental registration, the matter may come out all right. Such a figure of registration should be humiliating to a state which has prided itself on its high sense of civic duty.

NEW KINDS OF SEA FOOD.
Foods from the sea are always varied and generally abundant, albeit not everything which swims is accepted as desirable provand. One reason for this is of course the fact that not all sea life is desirable for human food, but another is that there is more of less prejudice concerning sundry edible fish, more on account of the names, for since eating is somewhat a matter of sentiment, it does not follow that a fish by any name tastes just as sweet. Dogfish, for example, have long been taboo, but as gravies they are being canned and sold extensively. In the same way other fish are being investigated as to edibility, and perhaps under another name, will presently come largely into use. As for the dogfish, its use as food will serve a double purpose. It is one of the most voracious of the finny tribe of the sea, and its destruction will allow the mackerel, bluefish and other commonly accepted fish to increase and multiply. And also it is a form of food delicious.

Shark meat has not a very pleasant sound, and neither has whale meat for that matter, but the former has already many advocates, and whale steak is being marketed on the Pacific coast, and is growing in favor. If the present shortage of meats results in the use of certain kinds of fish, hitherto considered useless and as that account wasted, an improved condition will result which will doubtless continue long after the war is over. The fact is that there has been such an abundance of the best in the American waters of the Atlantic hitherto that nobody has been willing to accept much except the best and the accustomed.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Allied War Buying.
The announcement is made that plans have been completed for the co-operation between the United States and the allies in buying war supplies. A central body for each country will learn what is needed from time to time and that which is bought in the United States will be bought through the Washington government, which will act as contractor for the allies and, of course, will control prices and arrange deliveries, exactly as for itself. Here is good business. It will mean an end to the enormous war profits of the last two years, but it will not mean an end to all profits. Ample allowances will be made to producers and manufacturers. No one should complain; least of all those corporations which have made millions out of munitions. The war is in part our war now and every dollar that is put into it must be made to go as far as possible. —[Buffalo Express.

Corn Bread for Breakfast.
The New York Produce exchange, with the object of promoting a voluntary economy in the consumption of other cereals on the country's breakfast table. It recommends a more general use of the food products of corn, oats, rye, barley and rice in place of the products of wheat, and raises the slogan "Corn bread for breakfast until the end of the war."

This is a good gastronomic as well as a patriotic watchword. The north at least knows too little of the culinary value of cornmeal. It has some acquaintance with corn bread and mush and Indian pudding, but it knows less than it should know of corn cakes and corn fritters, and hardly anything except by hearsay of hoo cake and Johnny cake and corn pone. Why should it not take a leaf out of the southerner's cook-book and add to its dreary some of the appetizing concoctions of cornmeal which flourish south of Mason and Dixon's line—especially for breakfast? —[New York World.

The Retort Numerous.
That west which has been making merry because New York volunteer enlistments were slim, will have to find a new topic now that the city has enrolled more prospective soldiers than there are men, women and children in Wyoming, Utah, Nevada, Montana, Idaho or Arizona. —[New York Herald.

No North or South, Only America.
The march of 10,000 Confederate veterans of the Civil war before the President at Washington was an inspiring demonstration of national unity. The South's demonstration of loyalty to America in the great task which the American people have undertaken was no mere lip demonstition. It came from the heart of the South. It went to the heart of the North.

The Campaign for Lille.
The British with inferior strength and fewer guns were content to hold their own before; they are now sure of their artillery advantage, they have a numerical superiority, and have acquired the habit of victory. A line drawn south of Ypres goes near Lens, they are about equidistant from Lille, and ultimately they will try to punch the Germans out of Lille by fighting along each leg of the triangle. He is now making a mighty effort in the north, and there will be great things done there as long as flesh and blood can stand the strain. —[New York Sun.

A Toast From the Trenches

Here's to the end of kings and queens,
And general staffs and submarines;
Here's to the day when men, grown wiser,
Refuse to bow to czar or kaiser!

Here's to the end of shrapnel shells!
Here's to the end of war and hell,
The wrecks of men, the hate, the tears,
The wounds, the mighty flood of tears!

Here's to the end of exploitation,
Poverty's grinding degradation,
The waste of competition death,
And one grand commonwealth instead!

Here's to the day that is to be,
With man and child and woman free!
Here's to the end of all autocracy,
Here's to the coming world democracy!

When a Man Is Most Efficient.
In the American Magazine Dean Herman Schneider of the School of Engineering of the University of Cincinnati says:

"A man is most efficient when he is doing the work that gives him the greatest satisfaction. From the laborer to the business executive, every man should put three things out of work—a decent living, development and discipline and satisfaction in the doing.

"If your job gives these to you give back to it the best work of your hand and brain. If it fails to give you these face the fact that you are a misfit and seek your appointed place. You have no right to let life remain separated from its two handmaids—liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

"How Can I Serve?"

There are strange ways of serving God.
You sweep a room or turn a sod,
And suddenly to your surprise
You hear the whirr of seraphim
And find you're under God's own eyes
And building palaces for him.

There are strange, unexpected ways of going soldiering these days.
It may be only census blanks
You're told to conquer with a pen,
But suddenly you're in the ranks
And fighting for the rights of men!

FIRST DAY OF CENSUS PASSES

No Trouble Except That Caused by the Newness of the Work to the Enumerators—Those Claiming Exemption Must File Affidavit With County Clerk 15 Days After Receiving Notice of Enrollment—Directions to Enumerators.

With 145 men and women enumerators working strenuously yesterday, the first day of the New York state military census taking in Oneonta, passed with no more serious trouble than the asking of many questions regarding the method of doing the work. This was due largely to the enumerators being unfamiliar with such work, and will be eliminated as they become more accustomed to it.

County Clerk Robert O. Marshall, in charge of the census work in this city, calls attention to the provision of the census law which says that all persons between 18 and 45 years of age inclusive claiming exemption must, within fifteen days after receiving notice of his enrollment from the census taker, file a written statement of such exemption verified by affidavit, in the office of the county clerk. Such clerk shall thereupon, if such person be exempted according to law, mark the word exempt opposite his name; and the remainder of all thus enrolled, and not thus found to be exempt, shall constitute the militia of the state.

Mr. Marshall is in need of more volunteers to work in the first ward, first and second districts, and for the second ward, second district. He urges that those who have volunteered to do work in the fourth ward and who have not yet reported get in communication with the ward captain some time today because all of the territory in the ward has not been assigned.

The county clerk calls the attention of the enumerators to the fact that the registration blanks must not be folded. He further says that all males between the ages of 18 and 45 years, inclusive, must be served with the "red" notice of military enrollment, and that the necessary endorsement should be made at the end of the blank form of registration of the date of the service of such notice, and that if the enumerators do not understand this matter thoroughly they should communicate at once with their captain, and if he cannot be reached to call the census office at the Municipal building.

Those who are at work taking the census in Oneonta are:

OPINIONS DIFFER WIDELY

ON WISDOM OF TIME LIMIT FOR MOTOR CARS ON CITY STREETS.

All Present Agreed That Residents Cause Most of the Trouble and That Ordinance Should Be Drafted With Great Care.

No definite result was reached at the hearing last evening before the law committee of the city council at the Municipal building relative to the enactment of an ordinance limiting the time in which vehicles be allowed to stand upon the business streets of this city. Before adjournment a vote was taken at the request of Chairman Bolton, a majority expressing themselves as favoring some more restrictive traffic regulations, but with no expression upon the time limit. There was a free expression of convictions, disclosing a wide variance of opinions. There seemed to be a general approval of the idea that no action should be taken that would tend to discourage business shoppers coming by motor cars or tourists halting for lunch or dinner. Some merchants—the adverse action of the Merchants' association earlier in the day being inspired by the same idea—fear that any restrictive action would influence adversely the number of visitors from the surrounding country—while other speakers were equally positive that if Main street were not so congested and motor cars could at all times pass freely along the street, that more would come and the regulation would be beneficial. Upon one point there was a surprising unanimity of opinion—that being that the trouble is largely caused by residents of the city and that if they could be influenced to voluntarily remedy the difficulty no action would be required. One resident willingly confessed to be one of the offenders and said that he did what the rest did, but thought that action is needed to remedy the situation. Others similarly guilty were not so willing to admit fault and urged that no action be taken.

After Chairman Bolton of the committee had stated the purpose of the gathering and the request received by the council from the Police commission, Dr. Cutler spoke. He said that complaints received were many and requests for remedial action no less frequent and after discussing the situation with the Mayor they had been requested to present a petition for an ordinance, although no formal resolution had been passed asking for a specific time limit and the suggestion made was solely to bring the matter before the council. He stated that the conditions are acute and dangerous and that the commission desires only to have such powers and such ordinances as are needed to make the streets safe and passable. He emphasized the need for some ordinance and expressed a conviction that the right ordinance would be welcomed by all.

Hon. L. P. Butts presented for the consideration of the committee the resolution of the Merchants' association expressing opposition to any time limit. Speaking for himself and such members as he had consulted of the Automobile club, he said they were favorable to any action that would remedy existing evils without injury to the rights of the public to the streets and suggested that perhaps a compromise might be effected with an ordinance that would regulate city residents, with shoppers and occasional visitors exempted.

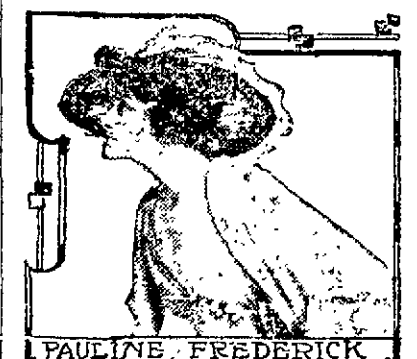

Other speakers were Alderman B. C. Lauren, F. H. Biese, Hon. Charles Smith, Dr. Sniley, Arthur M. Butts, J. G. Hoyt, George L. Winans, Dr. A. H. Brownell, George B. Baird and John L. Bowdish, with opinions differing widely.

One suggestion, which seemed to meet with favor, was that a restriction be made that no car be left within 50 feet of any street corner and the restricted section be more conspicuously marked. After the vote favorable to some regulation had passed, a majority being in favor, the hearing was closed. The council will doubtless consider the matter at an early meeting.

BOND SALE ENCOURAGING.

Speakers Given Cordial Hearing and Some Sales Result.

Following up the plan announced in The Star of yesterday, speakers addressed the throngs gathered in the moving picture theatres of the city last evening, speaking for about four minutes at each performance and emphasizing the fact that the government is not taxing the people to the limit of its power, but rather is enabling them to finance their own war with bonds purchased at a favorable price, upon which they will receive interest.

The speakers called attention to the fact that the bonds can be paid for out of future savings if desired. The speakers were given a cordial hearing and nothing but the best of feeling prevailed.

The Boy Scouts were busy last evening, soliciting in a polite manner orders for Liberty loan bonds, and they were also quite uniformly treated kindly and they were able to secure some orders, the full amount of which could not be learned. The lads are doing a duty and deserve encouragement.

"Buttonhole" Committee.

Chairman Butts of the committee on Liberty loan bonds sale has named the following "Buttonhole" committee for the Oneonta theatre to work in connection with representatives of the banks each evening to and including Friday urging the purchases of the bonds: M. G. Keenan, Charles McCarty, Arthur Seybolt, Jesse A. Millard and E. L. Ward. A similar committee for the Strand theatre is composed of Charles F. Sheldahl, Sheldon H. Close, Lee D. VanWoert and Edward S. McKean.

The committee for the Happy Hour theatre is C. Frank Stevens, Wendell H. Morgan, Lynn H. Breese and Carl Ernest. The committees are expected to be on duty each evening to and including Friday evening commencing last evening.

DEATHS.

Charles F. Thurnau.

Milford, June 12.—Charles F. Thurnau, who has been ill for more than a year with tuberculosis of the throat, died at his home on East Main street in this village at about 4 o'clock this morning. Though he had been afflicted for over two years he was not compelled to give up work until last winter when the seriousness of his malady became apparent.

Mr. Thurnau was born at Hanover, Germany, September 9, 1844. When a young man he came to this country where he has since resided, having become a citizen of the United States. Mr. Thurnau was a descendant of one of the best families at Hanover and has visited his old home seven times since residing here. For the past three years he has been very depressed over the war, having nine nephews in the German army.

Mr. Thurnau was married to Mrs. Mary Potter of Greene in 1870. For eleven years they resided at Washington, D. C., later moving to Oneonta, where they made their home until two years ago when they came to this village to reside. He was a watchmaker and was very proficient in the business.

Mr. Thurnau was a man who commanded the respect of all. During his residence in Oneonta and this village he became well known and his integrity and cheerful disposition won him a wide circle of friends who will greatly regret his death.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Carl G. Thurnau of Utica, and two grandchildren.

The funeral services will be held at his late residence here at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. The remains will be taken to Oneonta where a prayer service will be held at the grave, near the vault at Riverside cemetery. Dr. Pendleton of Oneonta, a long time friend of the family, will have charge of the services at the grave.

Leaves for Carbonate.

General Superintendent Dickson of the D. & H. was in the city yesterday engaged throughout the day in familiarizing himself with conditions here and in conference with the division officials. Some time was spent in conference over the proposed new passenger schedule on this division and in conversation with a Star representative Mr. Dickson said that an earnest effort is being made to draft a timetable that will meet as far as possible the needs of the patrons of the road and permit of needed economies. Mr. Dickson has impressed all as a very capable railroad official and a fortunate selection for the company. He left last evening for Carondelet, Ill., to inspect the company's interests there.

Missionary Meeting Today.

A meeting of the Delaware Presbyterian Women's Missionary society will be held today in the United Presbyterian church of this city. It will open at 10:30 o'clock this morning to take care of formal business. Meetings also will be held at 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., to which any of the members of other churches who are interested in missionary work are cordially invited.

During both the afternoon and evening meetings an address will be delivered by Miss Elsie Graves, who has been a missionary in the African Sudan.

MERCHANTS DISAPPROVE.

Proposed Ordinance Restricting Motor Cars Standing in Business Section.

At a well attended meeting of the Merchants' association, held yesterday morning at the Municipal building, the proposed ordinance to regulate motor cars standing upon the streets in the business section was discussed at some length. The members, while expressing approval in general of steps to regulate traffic and render travel upon the streets safer, passed a resolution disapproving of the proposed ordinance. The committee on legislation and civics, composed of Hon. L. P. Butts, H. W. Lee, J. J. Burke, George L. Winans and James Matteson, was requested to be present at the hearing last evening and present the resolution and represent the association.

To Close Flag Day Afternoon.

The association also endorsed the proposal to observe Flag day in a fitting manner and voted to close the business places at 12:30 o'clock for the balance of the day. There was united support of this proposal and doubtless many other places will unite in the movement and make the day one of general observance here.

Buy Liberty Bonds.

Before adjournment the association voted to invest a portion of its surplus funds in the hands of the treasurer in the purchase of two $50 Liberty loan bonds. The president, Louis M. Baker, was also requested in his discretion to appoint a special committee from the association to urge the purchase of the bonds upon members of the association and their employees.

June White Sale

These June sales of white become more important each season because women realize the great advantage they offer. We take pride in announcing the sale this year because we have surmounted the difficulty that most stores will have in getting the merchandise to sell at a price any thing near as low as was possible to make on previous occasions.

Muslinwear, White Goods, Blouses, Skirts, Dresses, Domestic, Linens, And Other White Things Included.

In planning for this event, we have chosen very discriminatingly in order to avoid the poorer qualities of merchandise which now flood the market. We, therefore, urge you to buy liberally so as to take advantage of these superior grade of goods at prices made possible only by early purchases.

This is the time for you to procure white wear-things for the summer.

Sidney, June 12.—The marriage of Miss Katherine Elizabeth Sager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Finch officiated and the full ring service of the Methodist church was used. The rooms were prettily decorated with lilacs, roses and buttercups in a color scheme of yellow and white. The ceremony was performed in the parlor under an arch of flowers and ferns. Promptly at 12 o'clock the wedding march was played by Mrs. John Sager. The couple were attended by Miss Margaret Sager as flower girl, Miss Alma Newton as bridesmaid and Ernest Spencer as groomsmen. The bride was attired in a gown of white georgette crepe with filet crochet trimming and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her traveling gown was dark blue poplin with gold trimming. The bridesmaid was attired in yellow voile with silver trimming and carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses. The groom and his attendant were attired in conventional costume. Immediately after the ceremony a bountiful wedding dinner was served. Following the dinner, an afternoon of pleasure was spent on the beautiful lawn surrounding the Sager home. RIDING TOGS.

Pointers About the Spring Models For Horsewomen.

Leaving out the horse, the saddle and bridle and the riding crop—all substantial items in the equipping of Miss Delutante for her spring canter in the park—a smart outfit will cost about $75 or $80, this including riding habit, hat, silk riding skirt, heavy gloves and specially made riding boots. Is it any wonder that horseback riding is a sport indulged in only by the rich? Any girl who can provide herself with a sport skirt and coat and a bag of golf clubs can indulge in the fashionable game of golf if she lives within trolley distance of a public golf course. Roads or bridle paths are free to anybody, but only the few can afford to use them. Riding is a sport which demands the utmost of conventional in its equipment. Everything about the riding costume must be flawless, correct and in accordance with the canons of good form. There is no prettier sight on a spring day than a pretty girl riding down the leafy bridle path under budding spring trees, but there is no doubt about it, she does represent a deal of money.

For spring there are coat and breeches riding habits of Oxford waterproof, cloth or of checked worsted, the breeches re-enforced with buckskin and cha mois, the coat partly rubber faced. Such a suit costs about $40, bought ready made. One may pay up to $100 for a custom made suit. The riding sailor of fine straw, in black or dark green, costs about $4; heavy riding gloves, about $2. For a smartly made silk riding skirt one must give $6. Riding boots of fine leather, stiff in the leg, supple over the foot, cost $15. One may economize a bit hereby wearing puttees, costing about $4, over one's ordinary leather sport shoes, but of course the riding boots are most desirable and lead not a little of its complete perfection to the costume.

silk of the same shade, revers, peplum and cuffs. The turban is one of the ever fashionable, crisp green foliage and a splash of flowers in color.

Hand Work on Blouses.

Hand made blouses were never more in demand, and a particularly chic example shows an original shoulder yoke continued in side pieces, which, reaching to the waist, give a certain shape to the whole and at the same time allows for a seam arranged in pretty openwork fashion and so adding considerably to the decorative value of the garment. Narrow front pieces, little more than strips imbedded, secured with buttons and buttonholes down the center, are again added, the material between them and the yoke side piece—if the term may be pardoned—being slightly gathered to the shoulder yoke, where again the openwork seam is arranged, as on the juncture of the somewhat deep cuff on the ample bishop sleeve.

For a Rainy Afternoon.

When the day is rainy and the kiddies are peevish and you have exhausted all your ways of entertaining them pull out the sewing machine, untether the needle and remove the boliboly. Then let the youngsters take turns at making weird designs on thin paper. Fold a square of paper diagonally once and then again and a third time. Then placing the point of the triangle under the needle, let the youngster guide the needle haphazard about the triangle. When unfolded it will be found that the square is filled with a beautiful, symmetrical design. Care should be taken that the needle is not allowed to run into the too eager little fingers.

Men With Women's Names.

Many names supposed to belong exclusively to womenkind have been borne by men. For instance, the lord mayor of London in 1680 was Sir Paience Ward, while Eve Sliffith was the name of a male heir mentioned in a sixteenth century will. Grace Hardwin, a landowner in this country in the early days, was of the sterner sex also. London Mail.

SYMPTOMS OF HER DISEASE

Backache, Sideache, Nervousness, Dizziness, Faintness, all Disappeared After the Woman's Medicine was Taken.

Kingfisher, Okla.—“For two years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, and had backache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.”

After taking ten bottles I am now well and strong, have no more pain, backache or dizzy spells. Everyone tells me how well I look and I tell them Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did it. Miss Nina Sottrawick, R. F. D. No. 4, Box 32, Kingfisher, Okla. Every woman who suffers from female troubles, nervousness, backache or the blues should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as Mrs. Southwick did, or if they need free advice in regard to any annoying symptom write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

Service for Motorists.

Motorists should not overlook the fact that when they unite with the local Automobile club they secure access to all the touring information in the possession of the American Automobile and the New York State associations. Members should when contemplating trips which take them beyond territory with which they are familiar notify the secretary of the local club sufficiently in advance that he may secure instruction for the proposed trip in advance from the touring bureaus of these associations. Only recently two members have been materially assisted in securing routings through New England.

ROLL CALL OF 1917

Come, answer to the roll call!
The drums are sounding clear.
Come, burn your name into the scroll
Of this immortal year.
Come, Freedom's sons and daughters!
The world is torn with strife.
Come, follow in the fateful ranks
To serve with breath and life.
Serve in the field or factory,
Serve with the deadly guns
Or serve upon the perilous seas,
Above the lurking Hun.
Serve by the strong and willing arm
Or by the ringing word,
So only that your task be done,
Your eager plea be heard.
We gather at the crossroads,
The parting of the ways.
Who now fulfills his little hour
Who works for eternal days;
Then rally to the mighty roll,
While drums are sounding clear,
So when the call shall reach your name
Your soul shall answer "Here!"
—B. C. Couthour Smith of the Vigilantes.

ST. PETER NOW A MARINE.

Grant, Jesse James and Julius Caesar Also Among Recruits.

Adding one more name to the list of versatile fighting men, St. Peter became a member of the United States marine corps the other day. St. Peter, whose modern prefix happens to be LeRoy William, dropped into Washington from Chicago to enlist and is said to be physically perfect with the exception of a slight varicocoele in his left leg, caused by a fall.

Other new recruits who promise to be excellent warriors if names count for anything are George Washington, Grant, Sheridan, Sherman, Tommy Atkins, Jesse James and Julius Caesar. Caesar, who hails from Brooklyn, is so young that it was necessary to get his mother's consent before he could enlist in the marine corps. Despite his extreme youth Julius may yet prove to be "the noblest Roman of them all."

BATAVIA

Why put bumps in your own path?

When you use a tire covered with projections, you are really asking your car to haul you over a series of necessary bumps. That means wasted power—squandered gasoline—needless wear and tear on the whole car from vibration.

BATAVIA Security Tires

offer a perfectly smooth surface to the ground, yet have depressions which both reduce the friction and prevent skidding.

Examine the next lump—surface tire you see after it has been worn most directly under the lumps. Then examine an old Batavia tire. See how uniformly it wears. Aren't there enough unavoidable lumps in the road without having them attached to your tires?
